This item is one of my most valuable and favourite one .It is my brother's present "Statue of Liberty".

My brother lives in the USA .He always wanted me to visit him but I was very busy here in Turkey so I couldn't do that but last year I went to the USA to see him. I travelled by plane for the first time. I thought my luggage would be with me when I changed planes but when I landed in the USA I understood that my luggage was in France. It was a nice experience for me because I tried to talk in English to the foreign workers. My english wasn't so good but they understood me!! They brought my luggage to the address I gave them. We waited for 4 days for my luggage. On the fifth day, my luggage came home. By the way, I wore the same clothes for 4 days. I saw my brother's university there. I saw how he worked and lived. I tasted the food. We went to Boston and New York. I went to nightclubs and restaurants in New York. People were very relaxed and kind. My brother had bought this statue for me a year before and I saw it when I woke up in the morning. It made me very happy. I think it will be a good memory.

Is learning English difficult ?

If you learn English, you can do a lot of joyful activities. You make foreign friends, play English games and watch films or series. We went to the cinema with three friends today. We had fun, at the same time we practiced. We watched a film called The Revenant. The film's leading actor is Leonardo DiCaprio. He has got an excellent talent of acting. We believe that he will win an Oscar this time. Bear and revenge parts of the film affected us. In short, both having fun and learning English is possible. Do not exaggerate it, learning English is not always boring.
